MONETA wins four gold medals for the best current accounts and mortgages in the Finparáda competition

Prague, 14 February 2024

MONETA has won a total of four gold medals in the thirteenth year of the traditional Finparáda - Financial Product of the Year 2023 competition, for its Tom Plus current account, flexible mortgage and payment protection insurance (BNP Paribas Cardif Pojistovna).

The award-winning Tom Plus current account found no competition in the categories of Current personal accounts and Current accounts for natural persons - entrepreneurs and small businesses. MONETA also won two third places in the categories of Term Deposits and Mortgage Payment Protection Insurance.

"We are grateful for the fact that we won a total of six awards. It proves once again that we offer our clients the best products on the market. We are pleased that the winners in Finparáda are decided by year-round monitoring of individual products, which are then evaluated according to clearly set rules," said Zuzana Filipová, spokesperson for the MONETA Group.

MONETA has been strong in current accounts for a long time offering withdrawals from more than 560 ATMs, as well as from ATMs of all other banks in the Czech Republic and abroad, completely free of charge to Tom Plus account holders. The debit and virtual card for the account is also free of charge.

The Finparáda ranking is not the only award MONETA has received in 2023. In the prestigious industry competition Bank of the Year 2023, organised by Mastercard, the bank secured silver in the Mortgage of the Year category for fully online mortgages and mortgage refinancing.

In another industry competition, Best Bank 2023, MONETA won second place in two categories: the first silver goes to the bank for its interest rates and its wide range of online products and services. The second award went to MONETA in the Most Client-Friendly Bank 2023 category for its attractive interest rates on deposit products, which was positively reflected in the bank's significant year-on-year growth in market share in this area.
